Sections 201, 202, 203, 204, and 205 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. 201, 202, 203, 204, and 205, require that common carriers establish just and reasonable charges, practices, and regulations for the services they provide, and prohibit any unjust or unreasonable discrimination, preference, or advantage. The LEC schedules containing these charges, practices, and regulations must be filed with the Commission. The tariff filings required by the Reconsideration Order are necessary to ensure the effectiveness of the fresh look opportunity that the Commission adopted in order to allow eligible customers to assess the new alternatives available in a more competitive market. The tariff filings that will be needed to comply with the Commission's rules on nonrecurring charges and connection charges are necessary to ensure that the rates charged to all LEC customers are just, reasonable, and nondiscriminatory. Without this information, the FCC would be unable to determine whether the tariffs for these services are just, reasonable, nondiscriminatory, and otherwise in accordance with the law and its rules. Obligation to respond is mandatory.

Public reporting burden for the collections of information is as noted above. Send comments regarding the burden estimate or any other aspect of the collections of information, including suggestions for reducing the burden to Performance Evaluation and Records Management, Washington, D.C. 20554.
